. . . and in cooperation with the hierarchy a constant effort has been maintained to supply the world-wide demand for Christian Brothers. That demand, however, has always been and still is much greater than the number of Brothers available.

1930-
REV. BR. J. P. NOONAN

1844 . .

. . 1944

Maps showing the world-wide development of the Christian Brothers of Ireland during the century which followed the death of Venerable Edmund Ignatius Rice. Establishments in Rome and Gibraltar are not shown here.

In this wonderful evidence of the blessing of God upon the work of the Christian Brothers, we are forcibly reminded of the parable of the grain of mustard seed.

An ancient chronicler of the Congregation has quaintly recorded, "In the year 1800 our Founder stood alone, having only his good resolutions."

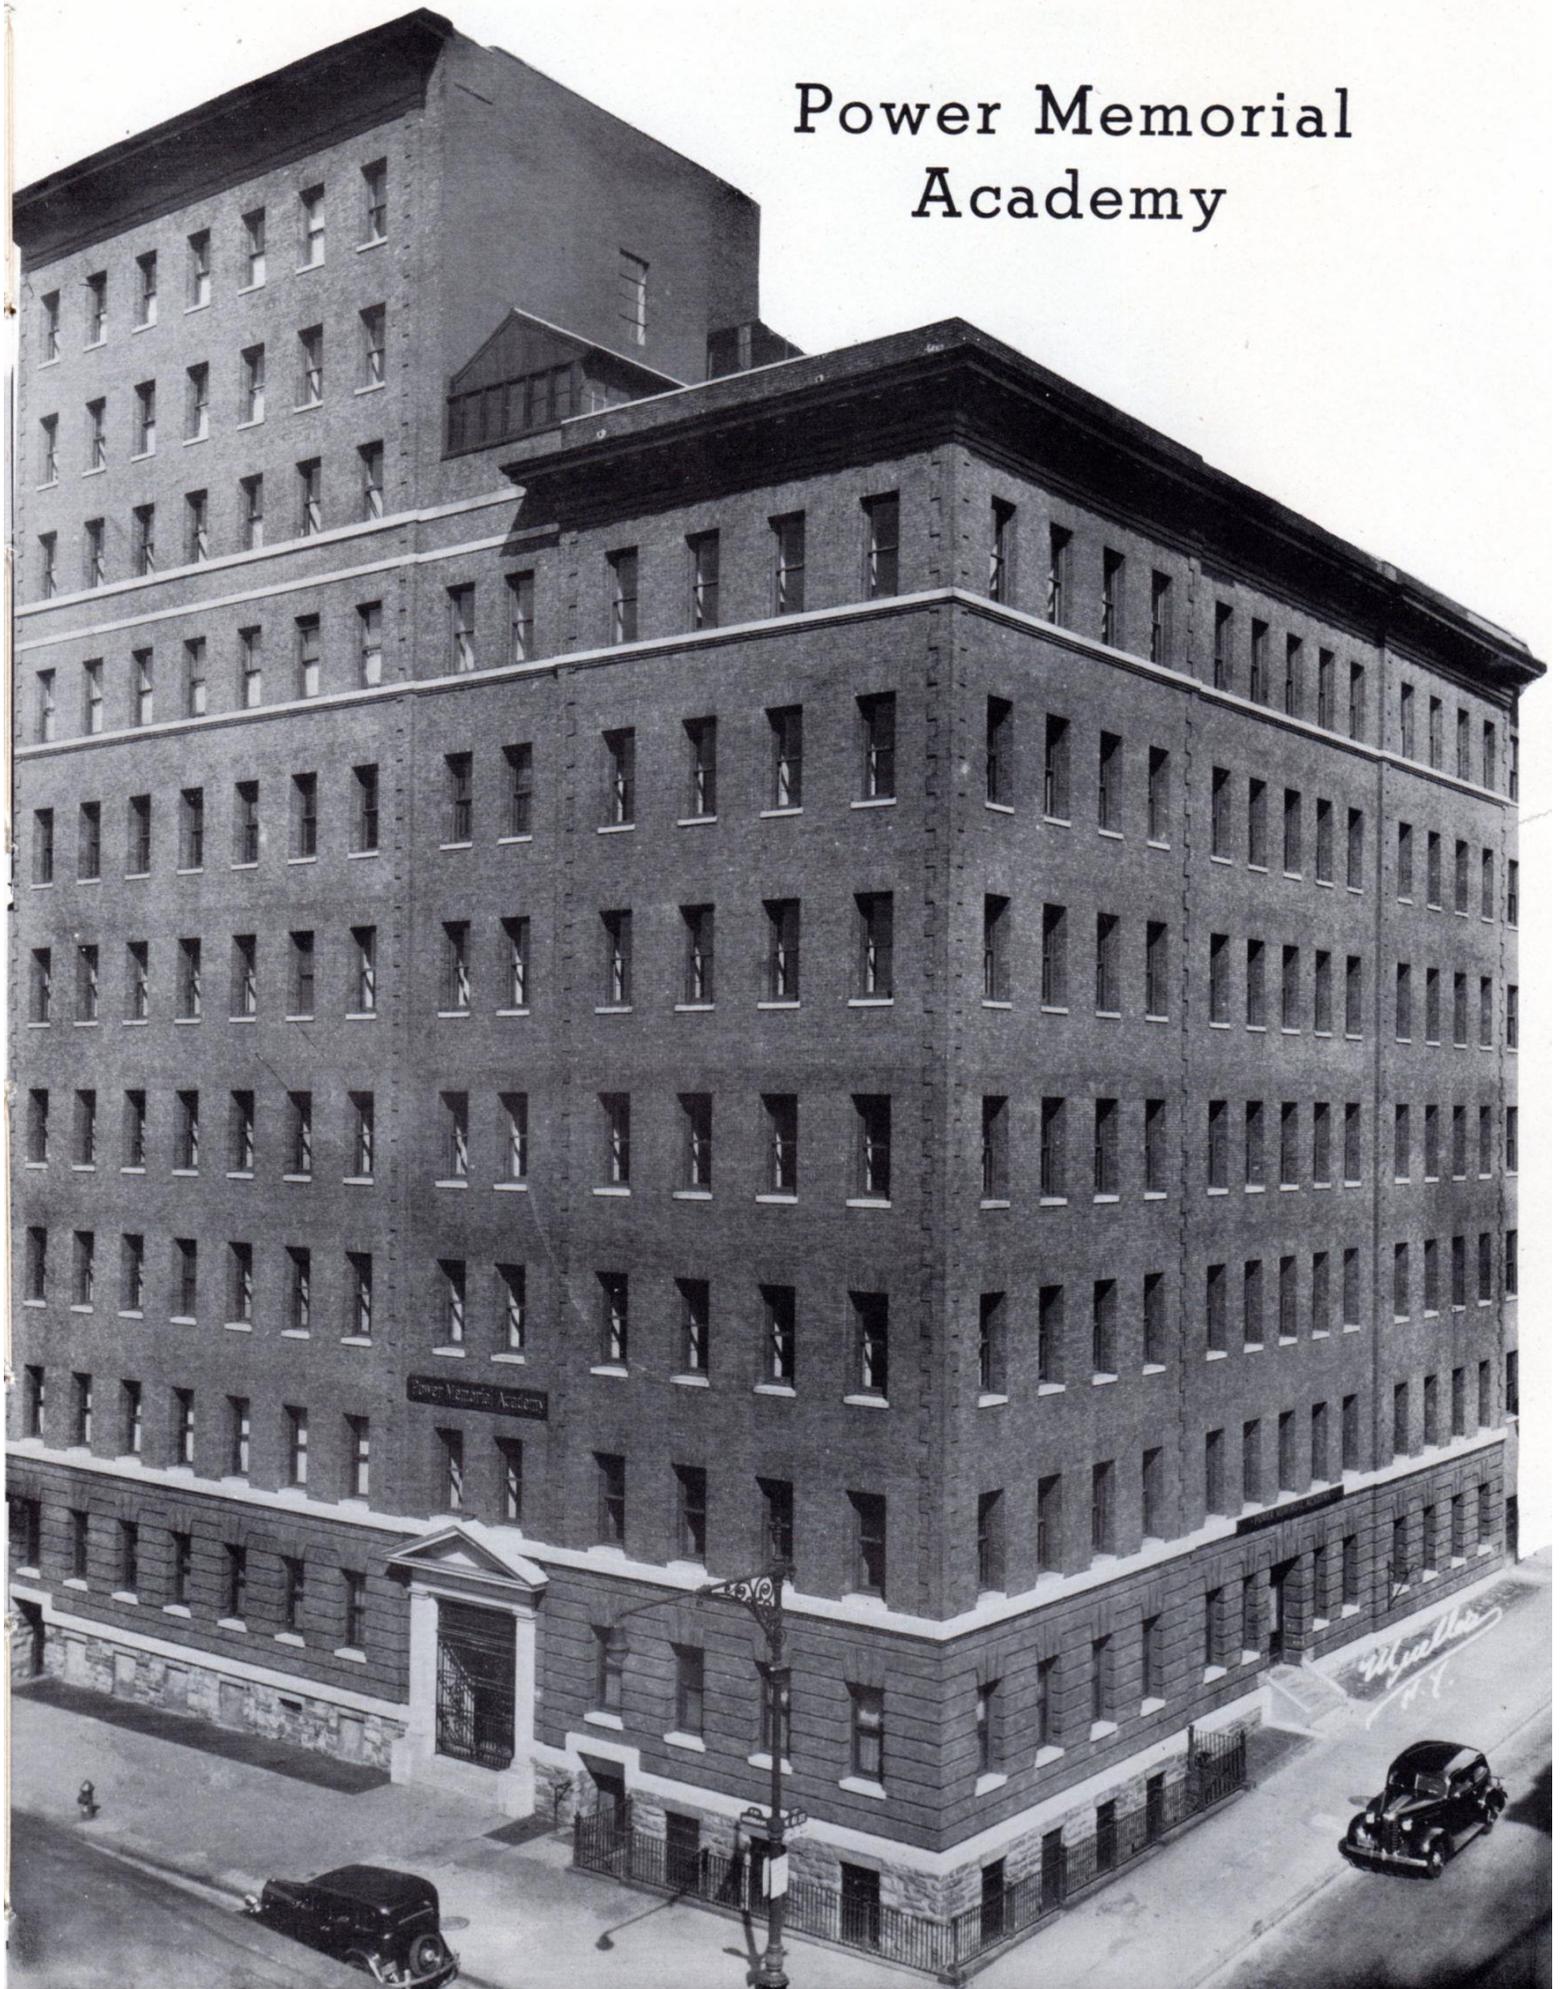

If so much good for the Catholic youth of the world has been and still is accomplished with very limited resources, what would not be achieved in the field of Catholic education if the number of Brothers were doubled or trebled?

Right Rev. Monsignor James W. Power

who introduced the Christian Brothers of Ireland into New York in 1906. The school bears the name of this distinguished priest as a fitting memorial to his zeal in establishing and promoting the work of the spiritual sons of Edmund Ignatius Rice in the United States.
